ABOUT THIS OPTION

What Is Direct Cremation?

Direct cremation — sometimes called simple cremation — is a dignified, straightforward option that focuses on the essential: caring for your loved one respectfully and returning their remains to you, without a formal viewing or ceremony beforehand. It is the most affordable cremation choice available, and one of the most popular options families choose today.

With direct cremation, there is no embalming, no casket, and no scheduled service at the funeral home. Our professional staff handles all required permits, coordinates with the Medical Examiner's office, and manages the cremation process from start to finish. Cremated remains are typically returned to the family within 7–10 days, in the container of your choice.

Choosing direct cremation does not mean forgoing a meaningful farewell. Many families hold a private gathering, celebration of life, or memorial service on their own schedule — at home, at a meaningful location, or at a later date when family can gather. A cemetery or columbarium placement can also be arranged separately, if desired.

WHAT'S INCLUDED

Professional staff services, transfer of the deceased (within 30 miles), cremation and processing, and death certificates.

WHAT'S NOT INCLUDED

Embalming, viewing or visitation, use of funeral home facilities for a ceremony, or cemetery / urn placement (available separately).

FLEXIBILITY

You can hold a private memorial, celebration of life, or scattering ceremony whenever and wherever feels right for your family.
