DISCLOSURES

FUNERAL GOODS & SERVICES. The Funeral Establishment shall provide the selected funeral as shown in this Contract or on an attached statement of goods and services unless factors beyond its control, defined in Section 18.39 of the Revised Code of Washington ("RCW") prevent it from doing so. The Funeral Establishment will furnish the brands or makes of goods shown or, if unavailable, goods of equivalent quality. This Contract is revocable unless the Purchaser indicates otherwise by signing in the space provided on the reverse side of this Contract.

USE OF PURCHASE PRICE. The Funeral Establishment will place at least ninety percent (90%) of the amounts contributed by the Purchaser in a trust with ClearPoint Federal Bank & Trust, ("CFBT") as stated in RCW 18.39.250. The remaining amounts contributed will be retained by the Funeral Establishment to cover the necessary expenses of setting up this contract.

GUARANTEED. If funeral goods and services are GUARANTEED, the Funeral Establishment agrees to accept the funds available in the Trust as full payment for the funeral goods and services selected in this Contract, even if the retail price for those items at the time of need is greater than the funds available. This Contract does not guarantee the price of cash advance items unless otherwise indicated in the space provided on the reverse side of this Contract. These items are paid by the Funeral Establishment on the Purchaser's behalf to third parties. The Funeral Establishment has no way of guaranteeing these prices at death, as they are estimated now. The Funeral Establishment is not entitled to receive any trust funds, including any growth attributable pro-rata to Non-Guaranteed cash advance items to cover the retail price of Guaranteed items unless agreed to by the Funeral Recipient's next of kin or personal representative. Any additional cost for cash advanced items will be billed to the Purchaser, the Purchaser's survivors or the Purchaser's estate after the services. Any additional items chosen which are not specifically included in this Contract will be paid for when the funeral goods and services are provided.

NON-GUARANTEED. If funeral goods and services are NON-GUARANTEED, the Purchaser will pay an amount equal to the cost of the goods and services selected in this Contract based on the retail price of the selected goods and services at time of need. The prices of goods and services under this Contract are subject to change in the future. Any funds paid to the Trust are only a deposit to be applied, together with accrued income less any fees, taxes and income distributions, toward the final price of the goods and services contracted for. Additional charges may be required.

RELOCATION. If funeral goods and services are provided by someone other than the Funeral Establishment designated in this Contract, the Trustee shall have the right to pay the amount in the Trust to the party that provided the services in accordance with the terms of the Master Trust. Any guarantees for funeral goods and services may not apply in such event.

CHANGE OF FUNERAL ESTABLISHMENT OR PERSON TO RECEIVE EXCESS. If the Purchaser changes their primary residence to a location outside of this state, it may be necessary to execute a new Trust Contract. Any change of Funeral Establishment, person to receive excess, or the execution of a new Trust Contract may not alter the irrevocable nature of this Trust Contract, and any waiver of the Purchaser's rights to cancel the trust may remain in effect, pursuant to applicable state law.

CANCELLATION. If this Contract is canceled within thirty (30) calendar days of its signing, a full refund of all moneys will be paid. If this Contract is canceled later than thirty (30) days, the Purchaser will receive the amount in the Trust within fifteen (15) days from the Funeral Establishment's receipt of written cancellation pursuant to applicable state law.

DEFAULT BY PURCHASER. If payments become more than thirty (30) calendar days in arrears, any guarantees regarding the preneed contract shall lapse. In such event, the Purchaser shall be responsible for paying any additional amount owed.

SELLER'S BREACH. This Contract will automatically terminate if the Seller goes out of business, becomes insolvent or bankrupt, makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or for any other reason is unable to fulfill its obligations under this Contract. In such event, and upon demand by you or the Beneficiary of the Contract, the Trustees will refund to you or the Beneficiary all funds deposited under this Contract, unless otherwise ordered by the court of competent jurisdiction. Or, you may arrange for another funeral establishment to accept the funds in trust and to provide the merchandise and services.

EXONERATION. CFBT shall not be responsible for the provision of goods and services by the Funeral Establishment. Delivery by CFBT of all assets held by CFBT hereunder to the Funeral Establishment in accordance with this Contract shall relieve CFBT of liability under its Master Trust and this Contract. The Purchaser, Purchaser's beneficiaries, heirs, personal representatives and assigns, agree that no claim or demand of any kind or nature whatsoever shall be made upon or asserted against CFBT resulting from or arising out of any act or omission of the Funeral Establishment. The Funeral Establishment shall be the sole party to whom the Purchaser shall make claim or demand of any kind or nature whatsoever.

DISBURSEMENT. The Seller or the Funeral Establishment, if so designated, is required to furnish, within fifteen (15) days of receiving a written request, a written statement of all contributions made. Any assets held by CFBT as part of the Trust shall be delivered to the Funeral Establishment within thirty (30) days after receipt of proof of death of the Funeral Recipient and the Funeral Establishment and a witness have certified in writing that the Funeral Establishment has provided the goods and services under this Contract. If the Purchaser dies or becomes incompetent or incapacitated, their rights under this Contract may be exercised by their legal representative.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT. The Funeral Establishment may request that certain taxes be paid from the earnings in this Trust. This may reduce the funds available to the Purchaser to pay for the funeral. By executing this Contract on the signature line provided on the reverse side, the Purchaser acknowledges and certifies that: (a) they have read this Contract; (b) the social security number and other personal information set forth on the reverse side is true and correct as the date hereof; (c) they are not subject to any mandatory withholding of income requirement imposed by the Internal Revenue Service; (d) they are aware of the Trustee's obligation to report any income earned on account of this trust to the Internal Revenue Service and appropriate state taxing authorities; and (e) that they were shown current General Casket and Outer Burial Container price lists prior to discussing these prices, goods or services.

The Prearrangement Funeral Service Contract is not accepted by CFBT until it is received in CFBT's home office located in Batesville, Indiana. The Trustee will receive reasonable compensation in accordance with the Master Trust. Upon distribution of all assets held in the Trust, this Contract shall terminate, the Trust shall terminate, and the parties shall have no further duties or obligations under this Contract or the Master Trust.
